It is very gratifying to us to have to declare, as the result of our deliberations, that we see no reason to doubt that many of the advantages which Mr. Mudie held forth, as inducements to the adoption of the Plan which he so ably explained, are immediately to be enjoyed; and that the whole may be secured, if the buildings requisite for a fair trial of an experiment can be erected within a convenient distance of the city. We entered upon the performance of the duty allotted to us, with many doubts as to the practicability of the proposed Arrangements, with strong prejudices against the system which they propose to introduce, and with a fixed determination not to allow our judgment to be swayed by any reasonings which were not founded upon well ascertained facts, or upon analogies...
