In the autumn of 1861, when recruiting was at its zenith, and the City Hall Park was white with the tents of recruiting officers and its streets resonant with sound of fife and drum, repeated and daily representations were made to the then Governor of the State, by commanding officers of regiments, of the incompetency and total want of knowledge of the military and professional duties, by the surgeons who had been appointed to the various regiments already sent to the seat of war; these complaints became so frequent and well grounded that the appointment of a Post Surgeon, whose duty it would be to organize the medical staff of each regiment, inspect and vaccinate the recruits, attend the sick, and instruct the regimental surgeons, assistant-surgeons, and hospital stewards in their duties, on their being appointed by the Surgeon-general, was decided on, and the writer was selected for that position, by the heads of the departments.
