Especially the final of these short stories named The Dead, which simultaneously is the longest, received a brought reception. It is the story of Gabriel Conroy who attends the Christmas dinner party of his aunts, the Morkans, accompanied by his wife Gretta (Brannigan 56, 57). Here, he is confronted with his pro-British existence, in contrast to some nationalist attitudes. In the end, he discovers that his wife fell in love with a boy in Galway once, who died, and that their relationship is not, and never was, as passionate as he wants it to be. In general it can be said that Joyce presents people in their relation to both...
